

Emotionally Intelligent Leadership: Pathway to Educator Well-Being and Engagement

A summer symposium for school and district leaders.

July 15 – 16, 2024

New Haven, CT

bit.ly/ycei_symposium

www.ycei.org

rulertraining@yale.edu

In this media kit:

- About the symposium
 - Areas of focus
 - Pricing
 - Schedule
- Guidance for sharing information about the symposium
- About the Yale Center for Emotional Intelligence
- Contact information

About the Symposium

Event webpage: <https://medicine.yale.edu/childstudy/services/community-and-schools-programs/center-for-emotional-intelligence/training/symposium/>

Recent research shows that emotionally intelligent leadership creates positive ripple effects for educator well-being. Now, more than ever, schools and districts must cultivate more emotionally intelligent school systems. "Emotionally Intelligent Leadership: Pathway to Educator Well-Being and Engagement" is a two-day symposium designed for superintendents, SEL directors, principals, and other district and school-level administrators committed to growing their emotion skills while enhancing the well-being, engagement, and performance of their staff.

Subsidized by a generous gift from the Seedlings Foundation, this symposium will unpack the new science of emotional well-being, insightful assessments, and research-backed tools that help schools address burnout, enhance engagement, and cultivate school communities where all members flourish. Participants will engage with like-minded peers and experts from the Yale Center for Emotional Intelligence in interactive sessions focusing on cutting-edge science and practical, actionable strategies to achieve these outcomes.

Areas of Focus

- Develop a deep understanding of the five skills of emotional intelligence and integrate them with the three components of well-being.
- Explore the latest research on the connection between a leader's emotional intelligence and the well-being and engagement of staff.
- Develop the ability to nurture organizational emotional intelligence.
- Gain access to practical tools and straightforward assessments designed to monitor well-being in your school or district.
- Join a vibrant network of district and school leaders to share, collaborate, and innovate.
- Create an action plan to enhance educator emotional intelligence, well-being, and engagement.

Pricing

"Emotionally Intelligent Leadership: Pathway to Educator Well-Being and Engagement" is offered thanks to the generous support of the Seedlings Foundation.

The cost is $500 per attendee. The registration fee includes breakfast, lunch, and dinner on July 15, and breakfast and lunch on July 16.

Schedule

Monday, July 15

8:00 AM: Registration and breakfast

9:00 AM - 3:30 PM: Symposium

6:30 PM: Dinner

Tuesday, July 16

8:00 AM: Breakfast

8:30 AM – 12:00 PM: Symposium

12:00 – 1:00 PM: Lunch and networking

Sharing Information About the Symposium

Thank you for helping us generate awareness about "Emotionally Intelligent Leadership: Pathway to Educator Well-Being and Engagement." Below are several quick and easy ways that you can share information about the symposium with your community.

1. Include the blurb below in an upcoming newsletter:

Become a more emotionally intelligent leader, cultivate well-being for you and your staff, and foster a more engaging environment for staff within your school or district by attending "Emotionally Intelligent Leadership: Pathway to Educator Well-Being and Engagement" on July 15 and 16, 2024. Hosted by the Yale Center for Emotional Intelligence at Yale University, this symposium is designed for superintendents, SEL directors, principals, and other district and school-level administrators committed to enhancing the well-being, engagement, and performance of their staff. Learn more and apply by June 14, 2024, at bit.ly/ycei_symposium

2. Share the symposium flyer.

3. Retweet this tweet and quote tweet with the following copy:

Join @YaleEmotion's summer symposium to unpack the science of emotional intelligence and well-being and access assessments to address burnout, enhance engagement, and cultivate healthy school communities. https://bit.ly/ycei_symposium

4. Share this Facebook post as is or with the following copy:

Join @YaleCenterEmotionalIntelligence's summer symposium to unpack the science of emotional intelligence and well-being and access assessments to address burnout, enhance engagement, and cultivate healthy school communities. Learn more and apply by June 14, 2024, at bit.ly/ycei_symposium

5. Create an Instagram or LinkedIn post with one of these images. Please feel free to use this copy.
Recent research shows that emotionally intelligent leadership creates positive ripple effects for educator well-being. “Emotionally Intelligent Leadership: Pathway to Educator Well-Being and Engagement” is a symposium designed for superintendents, SEL directors, principals, and other district and school-level administrators committed to growing their emotion skills while enhancing the well-being, engagement, and performance of their staff. Attend July 15 – 16 at Yale. https://bit.ly/ycei_symposium
6. Access our full asset library.
7. Follow us on social media for the latest news and updates on the event.
X (Twitter): <https://twitter.com/YaleEmotion>
Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/YaleCenterEmotionalIntelligence>

About the Yale Center for Emotional Intelligence

The Yale Center for Emotional Intelligence provides training to educational leaders, teachers, and school staff to support the systemic implementation of SEL (social and emotional learning) and fosters those skills in all stakeholders in these communities, including in families and out-of-school time. The Center tests and refines each element of their work, with the goal of leveraging emotions to create healthier and more equitable, innovative, and compassionate communities.

Contact Information

Media and communications inquiries:

Erin Brough, Associate Director of Communications, erin.brough@yale.edu

Application and event detail inquiries:

RULER Training, rulertraining@yale.edu