

OSP Funding and Grantsmanship Training

How to Write a Successful R01

This ‘must-attend’ presentation will be useful for any investigator, (faculty, postdoc, or pre-doc), who is planning or preparing a grant application.

Using the R01 as an example, the information and techniques conveyed in this session will help you to develop successful proposals prepared with the reviewer in mind!

The session will cover:

- Required and optional components
- Budgeting so that you don’t run out of money
- Key personnel and collaborators – finding the right expertise
- How to approach the layout – organization and formatting
- Quantity and quality in your research plan
- Requesting the right Study Section
- How applications are reviewed + new review criteria and scoring

VIEW UPCOMING EVENTS

Visit TMS to view event times, locations and register for a session.

VIEW VIDEOS OF PAST EVENTS

Visit the OSP Funding and Grantsmanship Training website to view videos and PowerPoint presentations of past sessions.

FUNDING AND GRANTSMANSHIP TRAINING COMMUNICATIONS

Subscribe to the Funding & Grantsmanship subscription list to receive announcements of upcoming events.

QUESTIONS?

- What can go wrong, and how to make it right
- Where to go for answers concerning your R01 application

Contact:

osp.trainings@yale.edu

Presenter:

R. Todd Constable, Ph.D.

Professor of Radiology & Biomedical imaging and of Neurosurgery

Co-Director, Magnetic Resonance Research Center

Director, Magnetic Resonance imaging Group, Bioimaging Sciences

Yale University

Register Now

Tuesday, September 24, 2019

10:30am to 12:00pm

Harkness Memorial Auditorium

333 Cedar Street Map Shuttle

Register now to reserve your seat!

If you register but cannot attend, please withdraw so we can free up space for another participant by contacting osp.trainings@yale.edu.

The OSP Funding Resource Center offers monthly workshops to help faculty and trainees identify funding opportunities for their research and prepare successful, well-targeted grant applications.

All programs are offered to the Yale community free of charge.

Yale

Funding and Grantsmanship Training, Office of Sponsored Projects

Contact: osp.trainings@yale.edu

Copyright © 2019 Yale University • All rights reserved