

Registration and Call for Abstracts
Third Annual Sleep & Symptom Research Symposium

April 28, 2017

8 AM – 3PM

Yale School of Nursing, West Campus
400 West Campus Drive, West Haven, CT

Keynote:

Effects of Sleep and Circadian Disruption on Metabolism and Risk of Disease

Kenneth P. Wright, PhD
Professor
Department of Integrative Physiology
University of Colorado Boulder, Boulder CO

The program will include keynote speakers, research presentations, posters, and time for networking and discussion. Lunch will be served.

Call for Abstracts:

We invite abstracts for poster presentations on research related to sleep, symptoms, or chronobiology. Abstracts must be no more than 350 words. Organize as follows: title, authors/credentials, affiliations, and contact information. Include background, aims/objectives, methods, results, and conclusions.

Please use one-inch margins and Arial 12-point type. Due March 23, 2017.

Please forward to Frances Hackerman, frances.hackerman@yale.edu; telephone: 203-737-2420

Conference registration (free) due by April 15, 2017, Contact: frances.hackerman@yale.edu

Sponsors: Yale Center for Sleep Disturbance in Acute & Chronic Conditions
YSN Biobehavioral Laboratory
Yale Program in Sleep Medicine