ACCREDITATION

The Yale School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT

Our needs assessment encompasses educational topics that span all areas of cardiology, including best clinical practices, state-of-the-art clinical and basic research in the field, continuous quality improvement, and issues related to medicine as it affects the patient, community and international health. The presentations are arranged in such a way that allows for many of the specialty areas of Cardiology to be addressed.

CME CREDIT

The Yale School of Medicine designates this educational activity for 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

FACULTY DISCLOSURES

It is the policy of Yale School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education, to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its educational programs. All faculty participating as speakers in these programs are required to disclose any relevant financial relationship(s) they (or spouse or partner) have with a commercial interest that benefits the individual in any financial amount that has occurred within the past 12 months; and the opportunity to affect the content of CME about the products or services of the commercial interests. The Center for Continuing Medical Education will ensure that any conflicts of interest are resolved before the educational activity occurs.

*There is no corporate support of this Grand Rounds activity.
This course will fulfill the licensure requirement set forth by the State of Connecticut.*
