NEEDS ASSESSMENT

The fear of dying is one of the most basic — and most difficult to face — human emotions. This session will explore the challenges of confronting existential crises in both our personal and professional lives.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will be able to:

1. Be able to describe core existential themes relevant to psychiatry
2. Appreciate the value of directly addressing these themes as part of psychiatric care
3. Understand and appreciate the importance and complexity of writing about psychiatric illness for a public audience

DESIGNATION STATEMENT

The Yale School of Medicine designates this live activity for 1.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
