

Yale SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Program for Biomedical Ethics presents

Palliative Sedation:

The last resort for intractable suffering

REBECCA GAGNE HENDERSON APRN, ACHPN, PHDC

*Palliative Services Program Manager
Faculty, Yale Medical School End of Life Program
Affiliate Faculty, Yale Medical School Bioethics Program
Clinical Faculty, Yale School of Nursing; Yale New Haven Hospital, Saint Raphael Campus*

ERNEST MORITZ, MD

*Associate Clinical Professor of Medicine, Yale School of Medicine
Co-chair, Adult Ethics Committee at Yale-New Haven Hospital*

KENDALL PALLADINO, DMin

*Manager, Spiritual Care, Yale New Haven Hospital, St. Raphael Campus
Certified Associate Educator with the Association of Clinical Pastoral Education
Board-certified Chaplain*

JENNIFER KAPO, MD

*Associate Professor of Medicine (Geriatrics)
Chief of Palliative Care Service, Yale -New Haven Hospital*

(Moderator) LYDIA DUGDALE, MD, MAR

*Associate Professor
Associate Director, Program for Biomedical Ethics
Co-Director, Program for Medicine, Spirituality, and Religion
Yale School of Medicine*

“Palliative sedation” is a medical intervention associated with controversy at best, and confused with “assisted death” at worst. With the current course of clinical medicine in the US it is anticipated more providers will deal directly with this topic.

It is important for clinicians to engage in reflection and discussion of this currently-available element of clinical practice.

Wednesday, December 12, 2018 5:00 – 6:30 PM

Cohen Auditorium, Yale Child Study Center, NIHB, E-02, 230 South Frontage Road, New Haven
RSVP by December 7th to 203.737.5943 or karen.kolb@yale.edu. Refreshments and light fare.

Accreditation: This Activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of The John D. Thompson Hospice Institute for Education, Training, and Research, Inc., and The Yale School of Medicine's Program for Biomedical Ethics. The John D. Thompson Hospice Institute for Education, Training and Research, Inc. is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. The John D. Thompson Hospice Institute for Education, Training and Research, Inc. has designated this educational activity for a maximum of 1.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits (CMEs). This program has been planned and implemented according to guidelines of the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation through the joint sponsorship of The John D. Thompson Hospice Institute for Education, Training and Research, Inc., and The Yale School of Medicine's Program for Biomedical Ethics. The John D. Thompson Hospice Institute for Education, Training and Research, Inc. is an Approved Provider of Continuing Nursing Education by the Northeast Multistate Division, an Accredited Approver by the American Nursing Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation. This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the requirements of The Northeast Multistate Division Continuing Nursing Education Unit, and designated for 1.5 Contact Hours (CEUs). This program has been approved for Continuing Education Credit Hours by the National Association of Social Workers, CT and meets the continuing education criteria for CT Social Worker Licensure renewal and has been designated for 1.5 CEUs.

DISCLOSURE: The speakers and the members of the Planning Committee do not have any commercial or financial interest which would bias the presentation.