NEEDS ASSESSMENT
I will discuss themes that unite chronically ill patients using Mallory’s story as a backdrop and share anecdotes that show where patient care can and should be improved.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:
1. To share a patient experience about living with chronic illness and transplant
2. To offer 6 specific medical insights from Mallory’s life
3. To shed light on the importance of resilience and show how to “live happy” in the face of overwhelming obstacles

DESIGNATION STATEMENT
The Yale School of Medicine designates this live activity for 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

FACULTY DISCLOSURES
Diane Shader Smith: TBD
Pnina Weiss, MD, Grand Rounds Director: None

It is the policy of Yale School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education, to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its educational programs. All faculty participating as speakers in these programs are required to disclose any relevant financial relationship(s) they (or spouse or partner) have with a commercial interest that benefits the individual in any financial amount that has occurred within the past 12 months; and the opportunity to affect the content of CME about the products or services of the commercial interests. The Center for Continuing Medical Education will ensure that any conflicts of interest are resolved before the educational activity occurs.
