Speak Naked: Become A Courageous Speaker

by Glenn Dulko, Founder of Speak Naked Hosted by Medical Education Student Interest Group

Come learn how to speak with confidence, clarity, and courage! In this interactive workshop, discover how to engage your audience and communicate effectively. These techniques can be used regardless of the size of the group—Grand Rounds or bedside report; the location—a large auditorium or a morning report conference; or the amount of preparation—slides or on the fly.

Tuesday November 29, 2016
5:30 – 7:00pm
Cohen Auditorium, Child Study Center
230 South Frontage Road – E Floor

Please RSVP by 11/22: <https://goo.gl/forms/CPh251G958w9DSRK2>

Glenn Dulko, discovered that true communications is not about technology, it's about people. Glenn founded Speak Naked in 2012 as program where speakers learn to step out from behind the power point, podium, prompter and props, stripping away everything that stands between them, the audience and the message. Glenn creates the space for everyone to feel comfortable, clear, and courageous when speaking anywhere.
