

Child Study Center Grand Rounds

Presented by

Yale School of Medicine's, Child Study Center

“ICE, ACE & IICAPS: A Lens into Understanding Parental Perception”

Jean Adnopoz, MPH

Clinical Professor in the Child Study Center; Director of In-Home Clinical Services

Joseph Woolston, MD

Albert J. Solnit Professor of Child Psychiatry and Pediatrics,
Vice-Chair, Clinical Affairs, Child Study Center

Samantha Moffett, BA

Community Fellow

November 1, 2016 @ 1:00
Cohen Auditorium, NIHB E02

Course Director: Andrés Martin, MD, MPH

There is no corporate support for this activity

This course will fulfill the licensure requirement set forth by the State of Connecticut

ACCREDITATION

The Yale School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Trainees in child psychiatry, psychology, and social work, faculty, clinicians, scientists

NEEDS ASSESSMENT

Audience members will understand better the childhood reports of adversity and reported resilience of parents participating in IICAPS and the correlation of these reports with parental perception of her child.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will learn about use of:

1. The Adverse Childhood Events (ACE) questionnaire in a clinical setting.
2. The development and use of the Important Childhood Events (ICE) questionnaire with a clinical population.
3. The relationship amongst parental reports of adverse events, resilience factors and parental perception of the child.

DESIGNATION STATEMENT

The Yale School of Medicine designates this live activity for 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)TM. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

FACULTY DISCLOSURES

Jean Adnopoz: no conflicts of interest to disclose.
Joseph Woolston: no conflicts of interest to disclose.
Samantha Moffett: no conflicts of interest to disclose.

Andrés Martin-no conflicts of interest to disclose

It is the policy of Yale School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education, to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its educational programs. All faculty participating as speakers in these programs are required to disclose any relevant financial relationship(s) they (or spouse or partner) have with a commercial interest that benefits the individual in any financial amount that has occurred within the past 12 months; and the opportunity to affect the content of CME about the products or services of the commercial interests. The Center for Continuing Medical Education will ensure that any conflicts of interest are resolved before the educational activity occurs.