Tait Shanafelt, MD Chief Wellness Officer, Stanford Medicine

Organizational Efforts to Cultivate Healthcare Professional Well-being: Before and After the COVID-19 Pandemic

Needs: Extensive research has demonstrated a strong link between the personal well-being of physicians and the quality of care they provide patients. More recently, studies have begun to define the personal and professional characteristics that contribute to well-being and satisfaction.

Objectives: Discuss what is known regarding satisfaction and burnout among physicians both before and after the COVID 19 pandemic. Recognize the personal and professional consequences of physician well-being.
