ACCREDITATION

The Yale School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians.

CME CREDIT

The Yale School of Medicine designates this educational activity for 1.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT:

All physicians are in a period of healthcare change, and their ability to function in a fluid practice environment will determine their professional - health when we emerge from this period.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

At the conclusion of the conference, the meeting attendee will understand and be able to explain the impact of change on: (1) the structure of medical practice; (2) access to patients; (3) how and how much physicians are paid; (4) how physician performance will be judged.

FACULTY DISCLOSURES

It is the policy of Yale School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education, to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its educational programs. All faculty participating as speakers in these programs are required to disclose any relevant financial relationship(s) they (or spouse or partner) have with a commercial interest that benefits the individual in any financial amount that has occurred within the past 12 months; and the opportunity to affect the content of CME about the products or services of the commercial interests. The Center for Continuing Medical Education will ensure that any conflicts of interest are resolved before the educational activity occurs.
