NEEDS ASSESSMENT

This special Pediatric Grand Rounds will feature a series of stories that are intended to represent profound personal experiences related to careers in Pediatrics. These experiences can include, but are not limited to, an encounter with a patient or family, power dynamics in medicine, issues of diversity equality and discovery, or provocative moments in the human interaction of being in Pediatrics. Internal Medicine has been holding this for several years with great success.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

At the end of this activity, participants will be able to:

1. To foster participation of individuals in Grand rounds (Medical Students, house staff, Subspecialty Fellows, nurses/APRNs/PAs and faculty (i.e., full time faculty, hospitalists and community physicians
2. To demonstrate the power of narrative storytelling as a unique and compelling educational tool for physicians, both as storytellers and listeners
3. They use the selected stories as springboard for discussion during Grand Rounds, and beyond.

DESIGNATION STATEMENT

The Yale School of Medicine designates this live activity for 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
