

Want to have your drinking water tested? Join the WATER Study!

WATER and Energy Resources Study (WATER)

Many factors can influence the quality of our drinking water. The goal of the WATER Study is to better understand drinking water quality in areas with oil and natural gas development in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia.

If you are at least 21 years old, live in selected zip codes in Pennsylvania, Ohio, or West Virginia, and your home is served by a private drinking water well or spring, you may be eligible to join the study. Participation involves a home visit to collect water from your well or spring and a questionnaire about you and your home. You can receive the results of your water testing if you choose. Compensation of $20 after completion of the study.

To learn more or see if you are eligible to participate, please go to medicine.yale.edu/water or contact us at (203) 737-6229 or waterstudy@yale.edu.
