

GIFTS AT WORK, STUDENTS IN ACTION

I was drawn to the Yale School of Medicine

by the quality of its faculty and alumni, its dedication to treating the whole patient, and the Yale System, which allows students the freedom to explore their interests and grow as individuals. Please accept my gratitude for giving me the opportunity to join your community.

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads 'Chris Dussik'.

*Christopher Dussik, MED'21
Arizona State University, BS, Class of 2015*

I am fascinated by emergency medicine.

My interest stems from the fact that the emergency room is the first point of contact with the health care system for many disenfranchised people in the United States.

For this reason, I am really interested in implementing and improving best practices in the emergency department to better streamline and personalize the experience for incoming patients.

I am very grateful for this scholarship. It warms my heart to see such examples of generosity. I really hope I live up to the expectations that come from this scholarship.

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads 'Waleed'.

*Waleed Khan, MED'22
University of Toronto, BS, Class of 2018*

The past ten months have been testing and tiring at times, but I have learned way more than I could have ever imagined, and I have met people whose stories will stick with me for a long time to come.

As someone who has enjoyed every aspect of every rotation, I plan on taking a fifth year to explore my clinical and research interests.

Being surrounded by so many kind, brilliant providers is inspiring, and I strive to emulate those values on a daily basis. Financial aid means I don't have to worry about finances and can focus on learning how to be an excellent provider. I hope to be a source of comfort, knowledge, support, and excellent care for my patients. I also hope to help create programs or policies that can improve health care or health outcomes on a community level.

Thank you for this scholarship. None of this would be possible without you.

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads 'Nida Naushad'.

*Nida Naushad, MED'20
Harvard University, BA, Class of 2014*

The Yale School of Medicine Alumni Fund helps to provide financial aid and scholarships to promising students like Nida, Christopher, and Waleed. To ease the burden of debt on our graduates and to support the medical education of these and other deserving students, please make your gift today. Thank you!

www.yale.edu/giveMedicine

Yale SCHOOL OF MEDICINE