Faculty, residents, fellows, students, and staff

NEEDS ASSESSMENT

The sudden COVID-19 pandemic has presented enormous challenges for health care of individuals and populations. Clinicians and support staff need to know the status of COVID-19-related preparation and clinical issues for the Section of General Internal Medicine, as well as receive updates and discuss preparation and critical clinical issues.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. To discuss the evidence of medications for opioid use disorder.
2. To discuss the consequences of no treatment.

3. To discuss the barriers to treatment.
