VIOLENCE IS A DISEASE:
EXAMINING THE PUBLIC HEALTH IMPACT OF POLICING

WITH ANGELO PINTO, ESQ. & BEN CRUMP
ACTIVISTS / CIVIL RIGHTS ATTORNEYS

Around the country there are countless victims of police violence each year, many of which occur with little to no public visibility. While this isn’t news, publicity of these cases is rising, and the impact to community and public health are staggering. This Change Talk examines the work of attorney Ben Crump and his fight for justice for victims of police brutality and the impact of these cases on the public health of communities.
