Course Director/Host: Dr. Rama Kastury, DO

There is no corporate support for this activity
This course will fulfill the licensure requirement set forth by the State of Connecticut

ACCREDITATION
The Yale School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

TARGET AUDIENCE
Attending physicians, clinical and basic scientists, nurses, residents, fellows, medical students, and other health care providers.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT
Despite the widening availability of next generation sequencing, clinical genetic testing may still identify variants with uncertain significance. These unclear results may require functional testing in order to determine pathogenicity. Genetic providers should be aware of available opportunities for such functional testing.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES
1. To understand approaches to functional evaluation of candidate variants
2. To understand resources available at the PGDP for functional evaluation of candidate variants
3. To learn about functional characterization of specific candidate variants

DESIGNATION STATEMENT
The Yale School of Medicine designates this live activity for 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
