

Engaging the Correctional Ecosystem in COVID-19 Vaccination: Strategies to Address Update in Incarcerated Individuals and Correctional Staff

March 17th, 11 AM - 1 PM ET

The COVID-19 vaccine will soon be widely available in prisons and jails. Yet, many people who live and work in such facilities may not take the vaccine.

- Acknowledging the impact of systemic racism and high likelihood of vaccine hesitancy, what are promising approaches to supporting high vaccine uptake among incarcerated individuals and correctional staff?
- What are correctional system approaches to addressing COVID-19 vaccine concerns among correctional staff and incarcerated individuals within their facilities?
- What are the ethical and legal considerations for such COVID-19 vaccine strategies?

Chazidy Bowman
President & Founder
Opportunity's Peoples Justice Leaders

Elizabeth Matos
Executive Director
Prisoners' Legal Services, Massachusetts

John Wetzel
Secretary of Corrections
Pennsylvania

Christian Conte
Licensed Professional Counselor

Shannon Ross
Founder & Executive Director
The Community

Rupali Limaye
Faculty
Johns Hopkins University

Register here.
Broadcasted in English and Spanish.