ACCREDITATION

The Yale School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT

The goal of this conference is quality improvement of patient care. The conference is designed to review complications and deaths. A complete table of complications is presented to the audience to determine which cases need to be discussed. Cases are analyzed and complications are classified: Was there an error in management? Was there an error in technique? Was it attributed to patient disease? Was there an error in judgment?

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

By using a database being developed to allow measurable outcomes, the objective is to improve quality of care, avoid preventable errors and adjust algorithms for better clinical pathways.

DESIGNATION STATEMENT

The Yale School of Medicine designates this educational activity for 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

FACULTY DISCLOSURES

It is the policy of Yale School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education, to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its educational programs. All faculty participating as speakers in these programs are required to disclose any relevant financial relationship(s) they (or spouse or partner) have with a commercial interest that benefits the individual in any financial amount that has occurred within the past 12 months; and the opportunity to affect the content of CME about the products or services of the commercial interests. The Center for Continuing Medical Education will ensure that any conflicts of interest are resolved before the educational activity occurs.
