NEEDS ASSESSMENT

This session will describe the unmet mental and behavioral health (MBH) needs in children with chronic medical conditions and the implications it has on pediatric subspecialty practice. Learners will leave the session with a deeper understanding of the importance of addressing MBH issues, as well as a toolkit of resources to address those issues.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

At the end of this activity, participants will be able to:

1. Describe the epidemiology of mental and behavioral health (MBH) issues in children with chronic medical conditions and the stress chronic conditions has on wellbeing.
2. Recognize the negative impacts on the mental, physical, and emotional health of family members of children with chronic conditions.
3. Develop strategies for discussing MBH care in patients who present with other medical complaints.
4. Recognize the menu of referral and treatment options for children with MBH issues.

DESIGNATION STATEMENT

The Yale School of Medicine designates this live activity for 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
