Qualitative Research Discussion Group (QRDG)

Dr. Christine Preiser, PostDoc, Institute of Occupational and Social Medicine and Health Services Research, University Hospital Tuebingen

Dr. Christine Preiser has a PhD in sociology and works as a PostDoc at the Institute of Occupational and Social Medicine and Health Services Research at the University Hospital Tuebingen (Germany). She has been working with various qualitative methods and approaches over the past 15 years and has introduced ethnographic research designs to occupational medicine in Germany. Her research foci are work-related psychosocial stress, digital transformation, informal workers' occupational health, safety and well-being.

QRDG Overview:

The goal of the Qualitative Research Discussion Group (QRDG) is to provide opportunities for individuals involved in qualitative or mixed-methods research to meet regularly to discuss the qualitative research process and potentially problem-solve issues that may arise when engaged in qualitative research. Discussion topics include, but are not limited to: logistics, data management, analysis, dissemination, role of the researcher, and ethics. It is intended as a venue for discussing research in progress and new or relevant literature on qualitative methods and practice as well as to create networking opportunities and foster research collaborations. CIRA's Dissemination Implementation Science and Methods (DISM) Core member, Laretta Grau, PhD, is coordinating the meetings. She can be reached at laretta.grau@yale.edu.
