NEEDS ASSESSMENT

The sudden COVID-19 pandemic has presented enormous challenges for health care of individuals and populations. Clinicians and support staff need to know the status of COVID-19-related preparation and clinical issues for the Section of General Internal Medicine, as well as receive updates and discuss preparation and critical clinical issues.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. Describe the evidence base for telehealth in chronic disease management.
2. Describe the evidence base for telehealth in acute care management.
3. Identify a framework for counseling patients on personalized occupational risk during COVID.
