

Smilow Cancer Genetics and Prevention Program Education Series

Thursday, June 20 | 2:30pm - 3:30pm

Join by Zoom

“High Risk Genetics and Imaging in Prostate Cancer”

Fatima Karzai, MD

Associate Research Physician, Genitourinary Malignancies Branch, Center for Cancer Research; Deputy Clinical Director, National Cancer Institute

Dr. Karzai is an internationally recognized physician with expertise in all stages of prostate cancer and clinical trial development. Her clinical research program includes genetics/genomics, imaging, immunotherapy, and health disparities. Dr. Karzai is passionate about patient care and improving the lives of patients with cancer.

In addition, Dr. Karzai is the NCI Deputy Clinical Director.

YaleNewHavenHealth
Smilow Cancer Hospital

Yale CANCER
CENTER
A Comprehensive Cancer Center Designated by the National Cancer Institute