Course Description and Objectives

The Global Health Seminar exposes students to key issues upon which they may base future research, service, and clinical pursuits in the field of global health. The course features faculty from across Yale and other global health experts from around the world. The Global Health Seminar is a requirement for students in the Global Health Concentration at the Yale School of Public Health (YSPH) and for students in the Certificate in Global Medicine at the Yale School of Medicine (YSM). YSPH students must take the course in their first year. The objectives of the course are for students to:

- discuss “what is global health?” and gain exposure to a variety of perspectives on current challenges in global health,
- engage in meaningful discussions with student colleagues, faculty, and outside experts, and
- cultivate relationships with Yale faculty and outside experts, resulting in potential research/fellowship opportunities.

Class Participation and Reading

Before each class, students are required to review 1 - 2 readings and come prepared with reactions to reflection questions that will be posted on the class Canvas website. Students are also encouraged to articulate other questions and ideas for class discussion.

Attendance

At the start of class, students will sign-in using a QR code posted in the auditorium. If students are unable to sign-in through the QR code, it is their responsibility to notify Anjuli Bodyk via email that they attended class. To successfully complete the course, students can miss only 2 sessions. Students must get written approval from the course director if they have already missed 2 sessions and need to miss an additional class because of illness or other circumstances.

Withdrawal from the Course

Students may withdraw from a course with the approval of their faculty adviser. Students may withdraw from a course by the stated registration deadline without the course appearing on the transcript. From those dates until the last day of classes, a student may withdraw from a course; however, the course will appear on the transcript with a letter grade of "W." Please refer to the School of Public Health academic calendar for important dates and deadlines.
