Yale Sleep Medicine Seminar

Presented by: Department of Internal Medicine, Section of Pulmonary, Critical Care & Sleep Medicine

The Not So Commonly Recognized Associations of Sleep Disorders

04/06/2022 2:00 PM – 3:00 PM EDT | Online

The purpose of this lecture will be to further elaborate the wide reaching implications of sleep disturbances on every organ system. We will also discuss the need for sleep testing in this diverse group of patients as well as discuss the co-management of these patients. In addition, we will briefly discuss potential treatments options that might be unique to these patients.

Zubin Bham, MD

Clinical Sleep Medicine Fellow
Department of Medicine, Norwalk Hospital

Host: Ian Weir, DO

Program Goal:

1. Discuss different organ systems affected by sleep disorders and their suspected pathophysiology
2. Evaluate the need to screen for sleep disorders as a contributing factor in different disease states
3. Discuss novel treatment options in this unique group of patients
