

Distinguished Women Scientist Award Seminar

Dr. Nancy Kanwisher

Walter A. Rosenblith Professor of Cognitive Neuroscience in the Department of Brain & Cognitive Sciences at MIT and Investigator at MIT's McGovern Institute for Brain Research

Professor Kanwisher's lab investigates the organization of the brain, characterizing regions involved in visual perception and cognition. Among other awards, Kanwisher has received the Golden Brain Award from the Minerva Foundation and is a member of both the National Academy of Sciences and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Investigating the functional organization of the human brain

Friday, April 29th , 2016

Hope H216

315 Cedar Street

2:00pm–3:00pm

~Refreshments will be served~

Hosted By Women in Science At Yale (WISAY)

Co-Sponsored by the McDougal Center and GPSS

For questions: wisay.grad.mentoring@gmail.com