“Medicine in the Streets: Three Decades Caring for Boston’s Rough Sleepers”

Sponsored by the Yale Office-Based Medicine Curriculum

There is no corporate support for this activity

This course will fulfill the licensure requirement set forth by the State of Connecticut

ACCREDITATION:

The Yale School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

TARGET AUDIENCE:

Attending physicians, house staff, fellows, medical students, PA's

NEEDS ASSESSMENT:

Homeless persons represent an exceptionally vulnerable and medically complex patient population. Clinicians need to have knowledge of the medical and behavioral health issues of homeless individuals, and know about strategies for the delivery of integrated medical and psychiatric care to this patient population.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

1. Review the morbidity and mortality of those individuals who sleep on Boston's streets
2. Describe the burden of medical and behavioral health issues borne by rough sleepers
3. Share the experiences of a team-based model for the delivery of integrated medical and psychiatric care directly on the streets

DESIGNATION STATEMENT

The Yale School of Medicine designates this live activity for 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

FACULTY DISCLOSURES:

Course Director: Vincent Quagliarello, MD - None
Speaker: James O'Connell, MD- None

It is the policy of Yale School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education, to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its educational programs. All faculty participating as speakers in these programs are required to disclose any relevant financial relationship(s) they (or spouse or partner) have with a commercial interest that benefits the individual in any financial amount that has occurred within the past 12 months; and the opportunity to affect the content of CME about the products or services of the commercial interests. The Center for Continuing Medical Education will ensure that any conflicts of interest are resolved before the educational activity occurs.
