SHOW ME THE MONEY
Using the Internet to Identify Funding for Your Research

An informative workshop for faculty and postdocs, and staff supporting their grant-seeking efforts

At this workshop, you will learn:

- Strategies for using the Internet to ferret out research funding opportunities

- How to use funding opportunity databases most effectively, including our newest internet resources:
  - ✓ GrantForward
  - ✓ SPIN
  - ✓ Yale Calendar of Research Funding Opportunities

  plus the NIH Guide, the NIH RePort Tool, grants.gov, and NSF Funding

- How to:
  - ✓ set up e-mail alerts
  - ✓ share funding opportunities
  - ✓ use shared funding searches
  - ✓ automatically receive new and updated funding information relevant to your research interests

Presenter:

Melanie Smith, MBA
Manager, Funding Resource Center, Yale University

Thursday, August 29, 2013 ~ 3:00-4:30pm
Jane Ellen Hope Memorial Building, room 216
315 Cedar Street

To sign up for this workshop, register at: http://www.yale.edu/training/
 Click on Browse Courses & Forms
 Click on Grant & Contract Training
 Click on GCA and GCFA Training / Courses
 Click on Funding/Grantsmanship Training Programs

Or: send a reply email to melanie.smith@yale.edu to let us know you plan to attend.

Sponsored by the Office of Research Administration, Sponsored Projects Advancement & Education