

The Program for Humanities in Medicine

would like to invite you to hear a lecture to be given by

Danielle Ofri, MD, PhD Associate Professor of Medicine New York University

The lecture is entitled: A SINGULAR INTIMACY:
NAVIGATING LIFE AS A DOCTOR AND WRITER.

Danielle Ofri started out studying the biochemistry of endorphin receptors, planning to be a bench researcher. She ended up as an internist in a city hospital and the author of four books about life in medicine. Instead of running a lab, she runs a literary journal. When her pager goes off, it's as likely to be the emergency room with a new admission as a hypochondriacal poet or a copyeditor. Join Danielle Ofri as she discusses the unexpected paths a life can take, and her newest book, What Doctors Feel: How Emotions Affect the Practice of Medicine.

Thursday, March 6, 2014
Anlyan Auditorium 5:00PM
300 Cedar Street, New Haven