ACCREDITATION

The Yale School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Medical Students
Residents and Fellows
Faculty Physicians
Allied Health Providers

NEEDS ASSESSMENT

This presentation will cover the clinical breadth of child behavioral health, clinical programs in the Child Study Center, and ways that pediatricians may effectively collaborate with professionals in children's behavioral health. Broadly, as will be covered in the presentation, it is more appropriate to think of child health rather than separating behavioral and physical health.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

At the end of this activity, participants will be able to:

1. Understand the prevalence and range of child behavioral health needs commonly presenting in pediatric practice
2. Understand the range of behavioral health services offered in the Child Study Center
3. Understand approaches to effectively collaborating with child behavioral health specialists

DESIGNATION STATEMENT

The Yale School of Medicine designates this live activity for 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

FACULTY DISCLOSURES

Linda Mayes, MD, MS: None
Prina Weiss, MD, Grand Rounds Director: None

It is the policy of Yale School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education, to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its educational programs. All faculty participating as speakers in these programs are required to disclose any relevant financial relationship(s) they (or spouse or partner) have with a commercial interest that benefits the individual in any financial amount that has occurred within the past 12 months; and the opportunity to affect the content of CME about the products or services of the commercial interests. The Center for Continuing Medical Education will ensure that any conflicts of interest are resolved before the educational activity occurs.
