ACCREDITATION

The Yale School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians.

TARGET AUDIENCE

The target audience for the Dermatology Grand Rounds is composed of attending physicians, residents, fellows, medical students, nurses, and other health care providers.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT

Some patients, despite an initial evaluation, do not have a definite diagnosis. Grand Rounds, consisting of live patient viewing and discussion, provides a forum for such patients to be seen by numerous dermatologists, and it provides an opportunity for a consensus to be reached regarding diagnosis, further evaluation and treatment.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will be able to:

- Recognize the cutaneous features of both unusual variants of common diseases as well as rare diseases
- Discuss the cutaneous manifestations of systemic diseases
- Provide clinicopathologic correlations and come to a consensus regarding diagnosis, further evaluation and treatment

This course will fulfill the licensure requirement set forth by the State of Connecticut.
There is no corporate support for this activity.

CME CREDIT

The Yale School of Medicine designates this educational activity for 1.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

FACULTY DISCLOSURES

See Attached: Jean Bologna, Course Director

It is the policy of Yale School of Medicine, Continuing Medical Education, to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its educational programs. All faculty participating as speakers in these programs are required to disclose any relevant financial relationship(s) they (or spouse or partner) have with a commercial interest that benefits the individual in any financial amount that has occurred within the past 12 months; and the opportunity to affect the content of CME about the products or services of the commercial interests. The Center for Continuing Medical Education will ensure that any conflicts of interest are resolved before the educational activity occurs.
