Inside Urology at Yale

Issue 2 | June 2018

HIGHLIGHTS

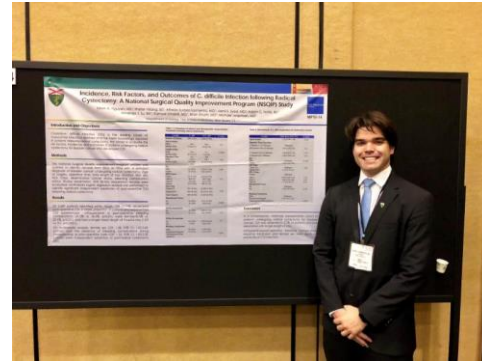

AUA18 | SAN FRANCISCO

The American Urological Association (AUA) packed an impressive program of panels, instructional courses, and presentations into their 113th Annual Meeting held in San Francisco, May 18-21. Yale Urology was proud to have more than 15 faculty, researchers, and residents present their research to colleagues from around the country and serve as faculty for instructional courses.

TWO UROLOGISTS JOIN YALE UROLOGY

Yale Urology is pleased to welcome Joseph Renzulli, MD and Joseph Brito, MD to our faculty. Dr. Renzulli and Dr. Brito are caring for patients at our new practice location at Lawrence + Memorial Hospital in New London.

In addition to general adult urology care, Dr. Renzulli and Dr. Brito will provide care for patients with urologic cancers, in coordination with the Smilow Cancer Hospital Care Center in Waterford and Smilow Cancer Hospital's Prostate and Urologic Cancers Program.

Dr. Renzulli joins Yale Urology from The Miriam Hospital and The Alpert Medical School of Brown University in Rhode Island. He completed his residency training at Yale School of Medicine.

Dr. Brito has also trained at Yale School of Medicine, and previously trained with Dr. Renzulli at The Alpert Medical School of Brown University.

DR. PETER SCHULAM SERVES AS PANELIST FOR YALE EXPLORES EVENT

Yale Explores is a new panel discussion series designed to bring together the greater Yale community by offering different perspectives on current challenges facing our world.

Peter Schulam, MD, PhD was a featured panelist in the most recent event, which was held at the Museum of Science in Boston May 15. More than 200 Yale alums attended the discussion, "The Quest for Better Therapies," which also featured Akiko Iwasaki, PhD and W. Mark Saltzman, MD, PhD, and was moderated by Carl Zimmer.

FACULTY PRESENTATIONS

Preston Sprenkle, MD presented "The Evolution of Prostate Surgery: From Palliation to Precision" at the Yale School of Medicine Department of Surgery Grand Rounds, Friday, May 11.

SAME DAY ACCESS PROGRAM

The Same Day Access Program launched for Yale Urology after recognizing a need to provide patients with increased access to our physicians. It began in May, and currently four appointments each day are reserved for patients who present with an immediate need to see a urologist.

Available for established patients only at this time, the program is being reviewed to determine how it can be expanded to serve additional patients.
